

Contact CAS Professional Group Inc Today For All Your End Tax Planning • 310-937-5900 EXT 227 OR 310-404-1304

News | Alene Tchekmedyan | January 25, 2012 11:30 am

Skechers Super Bowl commercial has animal activists growling

Mr. Quiggly, the star of Skechers' Super Bowl commercial this year. Photo courtesy of Skechers

For this year's Super Bowl commercial, Manhattan Beach-based Skechers swapped Kim Kardashian for a shorter, stubbier star: Mr. Quiggly.

This has animal rights activists growling for change.

In the commercial, Mr. Quiggly, a French bulldog wearing bright red Skechers shoes, races

Join the Conversation

Follow @easyreadernews

Easy Reader News on Facebook

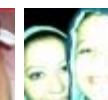

3,646 people like Easy Reader News.

Mary

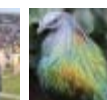

Steve

Amanda

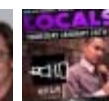

Tee

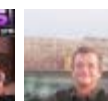

Jeff

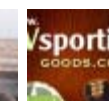

Curtis

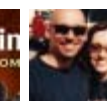

Baja Shark

H Kyle

AV

Kris

Facebook social plugin

a pack of greyhounds at Tucson Greyhound Park.

Greyhound protection organization Grey2K created an online petition against Skechers and NBC, arguing that the company is supporting dog racing and requesting that they pull the ad. More than 100,000 animal rights activists nationwide have signed.

“At Tucson Greyhound Park, greyhounds are kept confined in small cages which are barely large enough for them to stand up or turn around. They are fed raw 4-D meat, the meat of downed, diseased, disabled or dead livestock,” the petition reads.

The ad is set to air on Sunday, Feb. 5 during the Super Bowl to about 100 million viewers.

Leonard Armato, president of Skechers Fitness Group, said protesters are making assumptions about a commercial they have not yet seen. “Not one single animal lover has done anything but applauded the commercial,” he said, about those who have seen the commercial.

Contrary to what protesters believe, the ad is “about the spirit of the underdog achieving something remarkable in the face of great odds,” Armato said.

Also featured in the commercial is Mark Cuban, owner of the Dallas Mavericks, who himself was an underdog who went from rags to riches, Armato said.

The American Humane Association was on set for the filming of the commercial. “We believe that the Guidelines for the Safe Use of Animals in Filmed Media were followed and that no animal was harmed in the making of this commercial,” wrote Cheryl Kearny, director of post production for the American Humane Film and Television Unit.

Still, animal activists are upset. “By featuring Tucson Greyhound Park in your commercials, you are glorifying this inhumane sport and encouraging your customers to patronize this business,” wrote Kelly Kennedy, on an online forum. “Please reconsider your decision and stand up for the thousands of innocent dogs who cannot stand up for themselves.”

According to a Grey2K report, more than 900 greyhound injuries were reported at Arizona racetracks between January 2007 and November 2009. Injuries include a broken leg, fractures, dislocations, muscle tears and heat stroke, the report said.

Mr. Quiggly, star of Skechers' Super Bowl commercial this year, visits Skechers CEO Michael Greenberg in Manhattan Beach. Photo courtesy of Skechers

Tags: feature, Manhattan Beach

Recommended

Tags

Comments

 Create an account or log in to see what your friends are recommending.

Ruiz mourned following fatal crash
61 people recommend this.

Somali pirates abduct Mira Costa grad Michael Scott Moore
20 people recommend this.

Marine Migrants- Orcas and Gray whales face off a half mile off Palos Verdes coast
215 people recommend this.

Shoeless wonder: Manhattan Beach distance runner Patrick Sweeney's road less travelled

 Facebook social plugin

Sign up for weekly newsletter

Email Address

Preferred Format

HTML

Text

Mobile

Archives

Select Month

Add New Comment

Login

Please wait...

Showing 1 comment

Sort by newest first

fearnot

ugh please.. these animal rights people will take away anything that is fun, entertaining and humorous .. I hope Skecher does not back down.. if they play the commercial I will buy a pair of their shoes.. as for the meat.. what do they think wolves eat/ what would dogs eat if they were not fed KIBBLE.. they eat DEAD livestock.. imagine that.. oh the horror of it all

2 hours ago

Like Reply

M Subscribe by email S RSS

ONE KINGS LANE

luxe home décor,
furniture & gifts

save up to 70% every day!

JOIN: free membership

onekingslane.com

Subscribe by Topic

Enter your email address for South Bay Surfing News:

Enter your email address for Manhattan Beach News:

Enter your email address for Hermosa Beach News:

Enter your email address for Redondo Beach News:

Easy Reader

Wiwi
Title

About Easy Reader Easy Reader News is the largest independent online news site dedicated to covering Manhattan Beach, Hermosa Beach and Redondo Beach. With more than 1.9 million annual pageviews, Easy Reader News has one of the most engaged online communities in the South Bay. Founded in 1970, Easy Reader is headquartered in Hermosa Beach.

© Copyright 2012 — . All Rights Reserved

Powered by Close window

Recent posts

Share

Tweet

Like 7

Follow

Click Here to Share

